DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding Claim 1, it is unclear what is meant by “extends up to the front face of the substrate.” Does this imply on the face? In Claim 2, it is unclear what structure is on the front face, the feed line or both the main line. In Claim 3, it is unclear what defines the structure in the clause, “or main line as the case may be...in the case of projection...substrate.” Claim 4 is uncertain because it contains to ranges, 70 and 50 percent. Regarding Claim 10, it is unclear what is meant by a “cross switch.” Does this imply an electrical switch on the rear surface or something other? In Claim 14, it is unclear what is mean by “is suitable for arrangement in top position as well...position.” Such recitations do not appear to be positive when defining the structure and their interrelationship.

Regarding Claim 16, it is unclear what defines the method steps. Specific steps for carrying out the invention must be set forth in order to define a proper invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 2821

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kawahata et al. (EP0790663).

5. Regarding Claims 1,2,5-9,11,12 Kawahata et al. show in Fig. 1 and Fig. 10, for example, a dielectric antenna for a radio 61, comprising a substrate 1 of dielectric material and comprising a feed line 4 on at least a front face (top) of the substrate and a ground metallization (in phantom) on the bottom of the substrate and extends up to the top surface since conductor arms 2,3 extend and are connected to the ground plane portion along the back edges and on the top surface of the substrate, all arranged as recited. Regarding Claim 3, the projection of the feed line 4 and ground overlap. Regarding Claim 4, the overlap is much smaller than the percentages recited. Regarding Claim 10, the ground conductor is considered to have a cross switch because it extends along the entire surface of the substrate. Regarding Claims 11-15, the circuit board in the radio 61 is perpendicular to the antenna substrate as shown in the top position, electrically connected with the circuitry. Regarding Claim 16, the feeder is an HF feed connecting the PCB of the radio.
